I have had a business relationship with Scott Schindler for approximately 12 years. This connection has given me a good insight into Scott as a business man and as a person.

As a business man, SCott’s ethics are impeccable and Scott’s ability to build a successful business from scratch is proven with his history at ReNet.

I believe that most good business people in this day and age are, and need to be, good people, full stop. Scott’s dedication to his family, his competitiveness, skills, success as a surfer and mateship are all characteristics that he brings to his business with obvious results.

If anyone would like to speak to me personally regarding my comments please do not hesitate to contact me on +61 403 571 571.

In depth
PROFILE

Scott Schindler is a business and sports leader proudly from Sawtell, New South Wales, Australia. As the CEO of ReNet, he was recognised as a leading Aussie business identity, and keen surfer who has won multiple Surfing Titles. An overview of Scott's life shows an enviable ability to achieve success in anything he pursues.

At its core, Scott's career is a story of creativity, hard work, and a love of Australian life. As CEO of ReNet, Scott has presided over the growth of a start up business that began in 2000 with just 1 single property listing advertised. On Scotts' retirement in 2017 ReNet managed 900,000+ properties and $1.125 Trillion Dollars ($1,125,771,059,045) in real estate across Australia and New Zealand by 5,000+ real estate offices and some 11,000+ real estate salespeople.

In complement to his role as CEO, Scott is also a highly sought-after public speaker, trainer and thought leader within Australia, and around the world. A business mentor and sales trainer that can back up advice with proven results in his own life, Scott credits his 'quintessentially Australian' identity as a born optimist, and clear-cut straight talker, as key to his success in this arena.

Before this present chapter of his life, Scott acquired his business and sales trade during 10 years in the insurance industry in the 90's. Other organisations Scott is actively involved in are the Sawtell Boardriders, Sawtell Business Chamber, Surfing NSW and Fire + Rescue New South Wales. The roles vary but Scott's devotion to community is a constant, and so too an unending love of business and surfing that has carved out many, many adventures

Alongside having represented and won for Australia at the World Surfing Titles, Scott also holds multiple surfing championships at all levels of amateur surfing. With an enduring belief that success in business and sport require dedication to the same qualities, Scott is also very proud of his work as a coach and trainer of WQS surfers, and Aussie surfers in junior development.

When away from his work or sporting commitments, Scott spends time with his family, friends, and is a proud supporter and sponsor of local sporting groups such as Sawtell Surf Life Saving, and Sawtell Scorpions FC.
